Bluelake SimpleCapture – Overview

Bluelake SimpleCapture provides an intuitive, easy to use interface for capturing documents and associated meta data (aka index data) for import into document management systems. The information is saved in a standard, non proprietary, legally acceptable format that is compatible with a range of popular off-the-shelf and custom Electronic Document Management (EDM) systems.

SimpleCapture avoids the cost of more expensive capture solutions when advanced features such as bar code recognition and Zone OCR are not required, or when these capabilities can be performed centrally after document capture has been performed.
